

RIVES-PINSON.

Interesting Account of Society Event In Texas.

The wedding of Miss May Pinson and Mr. John Lewis Rives was a lovely event of the past week. It was celebrated Monday evening, at 8:30 o'clock, at the First Baptist church, with a large gathering of relatives and friends of the two families among the guests. The church was effectively decorated with palms, ferns, tall vases of pink and white chrysanthemums, and billows of pink and white tulle arranged artistically about the choir loft and rostrum. White pedestals, entwined with garlands of smilax, supported crystal candelabra, burning pink and white waxen tapers. Before the ceremony Mr. Troy Thompson sang two solos, "All For You" and "Because." Lobengrin Wedding March was played by Miss Corinne Dargan as the bridal party entered. The bridesmaids, Misses Mattie Justiss, Jennie Guthrie and Vesta Pinson, and the groomsmen, Messrs. Hubert Holland, Robert Coleman and Joe W. Pinson, were followed by the two matrons of honor, Mesdames Troy Thompson and John Helms. Then advanced the maid of honor, Miss Willie Pinson, the bride's sister, while the little rose maidens, Misses Ritchie McGlasson and Battie Albright, were directly in front of the bride, who was accompanied by her father, Dr. Perry Pinson. Mr. Chas. M. Dickson, of San Antonio, was best man to the bridegroom, and Master William Kendall, in a suit of white cloth, acted as ring bearer. Rev. W. B. Kendall, the pastor, officiated at the ceremony, assisted by Rev. J. T. Pinson, of Dallas. The bridal cortege left the church to the music of Mendelssohn's Wedding March. Dainty costumes of white silk marquisette hung over pink messaline, and embellished with shadow lace and pink silk rose buds, were worn by the bridesmaids. In their hair were crystal bands, ending with loops of white maline. They held arm clusters of white chrysanthemums tied with pink tulle. Mrs. Thompson wore her wedding gown, fashioned of chantilly lace over directoire satin. Mrs. Helm was in white charmeuse, trimmed in pearl bands and lace. Both matrons carried French bouquets of Killarney roses, caught with white tulle, and their coiffures were adorned with pearl ornaments and white aigrettes. The maid of honor was gowned in a graceful draped robe of white crepe meteor and lace. Her head dress was a pearl band and a white aigrette. She held American beauty roses knotted with white tulle. The small flower girls, in frocks of white lingerie and lace, and pink ribbon sachels, carried small pompadour baskets of pink rose petals. The bridal gown was an attractive creation of white charmeuse, entrain, filmy lace and seed pearl trimmings being used profusely on the bodice. A coronet of pearls held the long veil of illusion, which was draped in cap effect. A shower of bride roses, lillies of the valley and maiden hair fern, tied with tulle, formed the bridal bouquet. The only ornament worn was a diamond pendant, the gift of the bridegroom. Following the celebration, the bridal party were informally entertained at the home of the bride's parents. The home was prettily trimmed in cut flowers, and fruit punch and cake were served. A white frosted bride's cake was cut for the tokens. Mr. and Mrs. Rives left on a late train for Kentucky. The bride is the older daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Pinson and is an accomplished, attractive young woman with many warm friends. The bridegroom, an esteemed business man of Hopkinsville, Ky., is the brother of Mrs. W. D. Kendall of this city. The wedding gifts were numerous and valuable. An interesting feature in connection with the wedding was the fact that it occurred on the anniversary of Dr. and Mrs. Pinson's marriage, the date also being Mrs. Pinson's birthday. The several guests from out of town included: Mr. and Mrs. John Helm and Mr. Clifford Gray, of Terrell; Miss Vesta Pinson, of Forney; Mr. C. M. Dickson, of San Antonio; Mrs. Geo. P. Rives, of Hopkinsville, Ky.; Messrs. J. W. Pinson and J. T. Pinson, of Dallas.—Paris, (Texas.) News.

Accentuating Plant Characters.

It has been found that under red light (light through red glass) plants become more robust than in any other. They also become more pronounced in their chief characters—the leafy plant becomes more leafy, all shades of green become more pronounced, the sensitive plant more sensitive and all in every way become highly specialized.

Ideals the Guiding Star.

Ideals are like stars; you will not succeed in touching them with your hands. But, like the seafaring man on deserts of water, you choose them as your guides, and following them reach your destiny.—Carl Schurz.

Ends Hunt For Rich Girl.

Often the hunt for a rich wife ends when the man meets a woman that uses Electric Bitters. Her strong nerves tell in a bright brain and even temper. Her peach-bloom complexion and ruby lips result from her pure blood; her bright eyes from restful sleep; her elastic step from firm, free muscles, all telling of the health and strength Electric Bitters give a woman, and the freedom from indigestion, backache, headache, fainting and dizzy spells they promote. Everywhere they are woman's favorite remedy. If weak or ailing try them. 50c at All Druggists.

HIGHLY PRIZED RING FOUND.

Turned up by a plow from its burial place of 33 years, a little gold band engagement ring is now back upon the finger on which it was first placed so long ago. To Mrs. William Blakely, a pioneer resident of Pendleton, Oregon, belongs the ring with this history. It was purchased by Blakely in 1883 and placed upon the finger of his betrothed, who was then Miss Margaret Baird. They were married the following year. For ten years Mrs. Blakely wore the ring, and then, one unlucky day, she lost it. A short time ago a nephew of Blakely turned up a glittering object while plowing on the old home place at Brownsville, which still belongs to the Blakelys and is tenanted by their descendants. It proved to be the lost ring, being easily identified by the initials "W. M. B." engraved on its inner surface. Forthwith it was forwarded to its owner, who, a young wife when it disappeared, is now a great grandmother.

COMPARATIVE ILLITERACY.

Only three persons out of ten thousand in Germany are unable to read or write, while the proportion of illiteracy in Great Britain is 150 per 10,000 as against 770 per 10,000 in the United States. These figures are based on a comparison of illiteracy among some of the leading nations which has just been made and issued by the United States Bureau of Education. The United States figures include the entire population over ten years of age, while the German figures cover only the army recruits, and the British statistics are based on data drawn wholly from official marriage registers. Hence the German and British statistics deal only with adults, and generally speaking with physically and mentally normal adults, while the United States census includes without discrimination everyone above the ten-year-age limit, even colored folk.

AMUSEMENTS.

"FRECKLES," Gene Stratton-Porter's wonderful story of the "The Lumberlost" country of Indiana, will be presented at Holland's Opera House tomorrow night, Dec. 6.

The fact that there have been more readers of this story than any other book published in a decade—a fair estimate is in the millions—makes the dramatization of the utmost importance to the dramatic world. "Freckles" as a drama is stronger than "Freckles" as a story. The characters live; love and adventure—one can see and hear, there is nothing left to the imagination. D. L. Martin, a New York producing manager, has made the production of "Freckles" one that will long be remembered.

"Mrs. Briggs."

Already interest is ripe in McLean College play "Mrs. Briggs of the Poultry Yard." The cast is well selected, each participant being the real character. McLean boys have played in hard luck and are hoping "Mrs. Briggs" will put them right. Remember time and place. Holland's Opera House, Monday evening, Dec. 16th.
